On the March Agriculturally and Industrially

Mississippi continues on the march agriculturally as well as industrially. It may be that the recent reports of the establishment of new industries in the state are serving as a stimulant to farmers to forge ahead. The big gains forecast for industrial growth during the immediate years ahead can serve as a great spur to farmers who will have no difficulty in supplying here at home new and expanding industries with more employees and larger payrolls will offer good markets for many kinds of farm products, including fresh fruits, vegetables, milk and butter, eggs and meat and pork and

JAYCEES ANSWER EDITORIAL OF LAST WEEK

In last week's issue of our paper we published an editorial in which we expressed our disagreement with a proposed plan to merge Waveland and Bay St. Louis into one city under one name. The Bay St. Louis Jaycee organization, authors of the proposed plan, answered our editorial in a letter to the editor. We are reprinting below a copy of this answer:

November 29, 1961

Mr. John Damborino, Editor
Hancock County Eagle
Bay St. Louis, Mississippi

Dear Mr. Damborino:

This is in response to your editorial last week wherein you stated the Bay St. Louis Jaycees suggested that Bay St. Louis and Waveland merge into one city under one name. This, of course, is untrue.

Each individual of the Jaycees is encouraged to speak up. When anything is brought up at a general membership meeting, before any action is taken, it is given to a study group.

The Jaycee organization at this time is not suggesting the merger of the two communities but has only formed a study group to determine the feasibility of having one city.

The Jaycees at this time is neither speaking for or against such a merger.

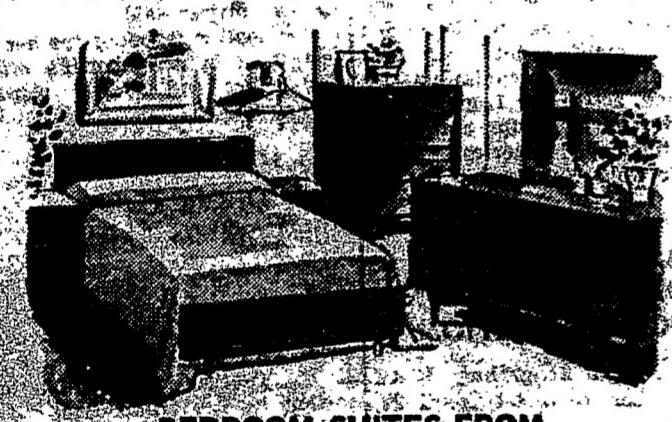

The Jaycees cannot take action for or against this project until the study group makes its report to the general membership. We appreciate your interest and will add your comments in the report given.

We realize there might be a few people who will not be able to read the reply to your editorial, therefore we are taking the liberty of mailing a copy of this letter to the Editor of the Sea Coast Echo.

Sincerely yours,
Thomas O. Logue, Jr.
National Director

HOG PRODUCTION GOOD ENTERPRISE FOR MISSISSIPPIANS

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Growing and finishing hogs in "pig parlors" offers an opportunity for good return for efficient producers in Mississippi.

Economists of the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station have recently reported a study on the costs of producing pork on concrete as a year-round operation. Costs estimates include labor, interest on investments, rent on land, and depreciation.

Results emphasize the importance of keeping litter size large and feed ratios low. Barney H. Jacks and Travis D. Phillips, who conducted the study, drew the following conclusions:

"As a result of lower feeder pig costs and larger numbers fed, hundredweight cost of producing a 200-pound hog decline by about 90 cents as the number of pigs saved increases from 7 to 9.

"Reducing the feed conversion ratio from 3.75 to 3.25 reduces costs by $1.06 per hundredweight. Based on the prices used in this study, increasing both herd size and management can reduce production costs by as much as $2.14 per hundredweight.

"At the level of hog prices that has existed over the past five years, confinement production appears profitable. Where 8 pigs are saved per litter, feed conversion ratio is 3.50, and 1600 hogs are finished annually, the margin above the $12.54 production cost would have averaged $8.05 per hundredweight in 1958, the high year of the period; $2.72 in 1959, the low year; and $4.49 over the 5 years."

Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Fernandez and son, Louis, who is a student at Pearl River Junior College, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Drez in New Orleans.

are Dr. Harold W. Brown, internationally known parasitologist, of Columbia University, New York City; Dr. Forrest E. Linder, Director of the National Center for Health Statistics, Washington, D. C.; Eugene L. Lehr, Chief of Accident Prevention Program Planning, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.; and Dr. Daniel Bergsma, Associate Medical Care Director of the National Foundation, New York City.

Governor Ross Barnett will speak at the opening session on Wednesday afternoon. Dr. A. L. Gray, State Health Officer, is scheduled for two addresses during the convention.

H BOND LIMIT INCREASED TO TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

Mr. Andy J. Becker, County Chairman of the Hancock County Savings Bonds Committee, hailed the Treasury's decision to raise the annual purchase limit on Series E Savings Bonds back to $20,000 after January 1, 1962.

The limit was lowered to $10,000 four and a half years ago. No change is being made in the $10,000 annual limit on Series E Bonds.

"Since the limit was lowered to $10,000 in 1957," he said, "the purchase of E and H Bonds has been opened to all types of investors except commercial banks since 1958. There has been growing demand by smaller institutional investors for permission to buy larger amounts of H Bonds, and this was instrumental in the Treasury's decision."

MISSISSIPPI SAVINGS UP, MORTGAGE LOANS UP

MISSISSIPPI SAVINGS AND LOAN Associations received more savings in October than in the same month a year ago, according to the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock, Arkansas. Their lending volume also rose $1,030,430 from the corresponding month in 1960, but was $1,928,894 below September 1961 volume.

The Federal Home Loan Bank report covering the activity of the 34 Mississippi members of the system shows the associations added a net total of $2,840,005 to their savings accounts. New savings in October were $1,682,328 and withdrawals were $2,842,323.

The months net intake was $749,234 greater than the year earlier $2,000,771 and pushed the associations' net savings capital to $277,239,126, and increase of 13.4 percent over the year ago, $24,512,342.

On the lending side the 34 associations closed mortgage loans totaling $6,197,183, well ahead of the October 1960 total of $5,166,733, but below the $8,124,057 recorded for September 1961.

For the first 10 months of the year loan closings were above those of 1960, $3,604,031 to $4,100,849.

In the five state area (Miss., Ark., La., Tex., N. Mex.) served by the Little Rock bank, both savings and lending activities reflected increased net saving intake was $20,804,048 in October compared with $14,108,319 in October 1960, while loan closings of $674,402 reflected a substantial increase over $71,000,000 for the same month last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Peterson and son Tim of Jackson, Miss., were weekend guests of his mother, Mrs. Maggie Peterson, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bermond

HANCOCK COUNTY EAGLE

STATE HISTORIAN

CLINTON, Miss. — A drive is underway to develop the Historian movement on a sound basis so as to provide students with a greater knowledge of their state, spearheaded by Dr. Jack W. Gunn, Chairman of the Division of Social Studies of Mississippi College. It is hoped that the movement can blanket the state and junior historian groups will be organized in every school in the state.

On April 1, the Department of History and Political Science at Mississippi College sponsored a Junior Historian meeting for high schools in the vicinity of Clinton. If proved such a success that meeting for this April to include all Mississippi schools.

Dr. Gunn, in commenting on the movement, said: "It offers an opportunity for both student and teacher to gain a greater knowledge of their state and inspire the students to greater achievement."

P.T.A. FILM LIBRARY SERVES STATE P.T.A. MEMBERSHIP

"Unique among the service programs of the MCPT is its excellent film library, supported by gifts from local parent-teacher units and councils all over the state," Mrs. H. D. Worthy, Oxford, president states. "According to the current files of the National Congress, Mississippi is one of only three out of 52 state congresses to carry on such a program, and its method of support and maintenance are different to that of the other two - California and Florida. Our gifts and contributions from 416 units with 97,977 members, varying in amounts from $1.00 to $76.00 are voluntary, and amounts change from year to year," Mrs. Worthy adds.

The 50 films and one film strip now owned by the Mississippi Congress are housed with the film library of the Mississippi State Board of Health, and are listed in its catalog, designated as P.T.A. films. Leaders have been added to further identify them as P.T.A. owned. Subjects range from Democracy: Development and Practice, Emotional Development, and Safety, to patriotic themes and creativity among school children. They used in regular monthly P.T.A. programs, by study-discussion groups, college classes and by teachers with school children, at no charge except for postage. Black and white copies are no less in demand than those in color.

Mrs. Guy Arbuthnot, Clinton, film library chairman for the Mississippi Congress, states that two films particularly appropriate at this time in our history, purchased with the aim of stimulated interest in our heritage among parent-teacher members and their families, are "Our County's Flag" and "Folk Songs of America's History."

"Cooperation between the State Board of Health and the MCPT enriches the teaching program of both," declared Dr. A. L. Gray, director, State Board of Health at a meeting of the film selection committee. Distribution of the films is under the direction of Mrs. Lucile Brown, film librarian, State Board of Health.

SUMMARY OF MOTOR VEHICLES INSPECTION PROGRAM MADE PUBLIC

Commissioner of Public Safety J. H. Birdsong made public today a summary of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Program in the state for this year. The summary is dated November 19, and shows totals up to that date.

There were 676,724 cars inspected under the program. There were only 207 vehicles rejected out of the total. Of the cars requiring repairs before being approved 90% needed repairs on adjustment of headlamps, 12% adjustment of brakes, 8% adjustment or repair to steering mechanism or alignment, 1% adjustment or replacement of tires, and 1% required adjustment to windshield wipers. The most encouraging disclosure was that 49% of the cars inspected did not require any adjustments or repairs to qualify.

The average cost of repairs per car amounted to $2.75.

A total of 1087 stations are licensed to inspect cars in the state. 500 of these are public stations that inspect in commercial locations. The remaining 587 are inspection stations that are licensed to examine only the vehicles owned and operated by the fleet owner.

The distribution of the public stations is state-wide.

The summary was prepared and released by Director of Finance and Staff Operations Boyd Golding and Director of Motor Vehicle Inspection R. L. Morgan.

Dairying is big business in the state of Mississippi, ranking as the seventh "biggest business" in the state. Last year the gross income from the industry hit $150,000,000; and of this amount, $80,000,000 went to the dairy farmers for milk products and cattle. Reports indicate an ever increasing production along with increased use. Cash receipts from the sale of milk from Mississippi farms will likely reach an all-time mark in 1961.

In the plentiful supply on vegetable counters around our area are vegetable pears, commonly called "miriltons".

Miriltons belong to the squash family and may be prepared in much the same manner. It is pale green pear-shaped fruit with a single seed in the middle.

Generally, miriltons are boiled in a little water until tender. They are then peeled, and the delicate flavored-flesh used in a variety of ways.

Because it retains its firmness after cooking, the vegetable pear may be sliced, coated with a batter and fried in deep fat. It may also be diced, seasoned with a French dressing and served as a salad or vegetable.

Miriltons may also be halved and baked like acorn squash, either with salt and pepper and butter, or with a stuffing. A favorite way of South Louisiana home-makers is to stuff the mirilton with shrimp, bread crumbs and other seasonings.

Food shoppers will be wise to include the use of this fall vegetable when planning family menus.

VEGETABLE PEAR RELISH
1 quart finely chopped vegetables, 1 quart finely chopped onion, 1 quart finely chopped red and green sweet peppers, mix vegetables and add: 4 tablespoons salt, 4 tablespoons mustard seed, 1 quart vinegar, 2 tablespoons celery seed, 1/2 cup sugar.

Mix well and let stand covered overnight in a cool, dark vessel. Next morning drain off mixture firmly in pint pour on vinegar, seal and process 10 minutes if it were allowed to thaw.

search is underway on December 1st. Duck blinds can be seen in Jordan River, and in the roads here about. The hunting should be good at that time to be plentiful just now. Don't forget that Federal Duck stamp. It costs $3 but you need it.

According to hunters squirrel hunting has been fairly good. Looks like there are more right here in town.

Bill and Dot Stapleton, owners of Waveland Bakery, say it won't be long before they can catch up on their favorite sport fishing.

Was a pleasure to go fishing in Baton Rouge at Kamah last Friday with Luke Elliott and Malcolm Upson.

Malcolm is a swell guy, but rather rough on the fish with that fly rod. Will be expecting that trip with us on the Gulf Coast, Malcolm.

Spent the weekend in New Orleans and Baton Rouge, fished, hunted and played golf. With the deer season opening in Louisiana last Friday the hunters in the La. area had a field day, they went with speed bulls, skiffs, etc., some using dogs. A lot of hunters were in the woods. Rabbits as well as deer hit the dirt. The marsh lands of Louisiana are deer-hunting territory. Most hunters got their limit.

Have you ever camped on the bayous and rivers over night? There's nothing better than sleeping in a tent on a cool, moonlight night thinking of what's going to happen—whether the fish are going to bite, or hunting will be good. That early good hot coffee and breakfast to start the day off right and that long looked for supper of fried fish, a duck or two and an some like it—"that midnight nip". There is always one in the crowd who is a good cook, a toss salad maker and the one who says, "I will do the cleaning up." God bless him! Lets try camping, it's lots of fun.

Among those who enjoy camping on their speed boats out in the marshes during the duck and geese seasons are August Rauxet and son, Raoul Telhia, Joe Kern, Larry Laroux, Dick Mestayer and Gerald Kennedy, who spend the weekends at their camp near 9 Mile Bayou.

Local hunters are looking forward to the opening of the duck club.

A new member of the ladies golf enthusiasts is Mrs. Luke Elliott. Keep up that practicing, Sue. We know you will make the grade.

Tony Enterante is looking forward to that vacation in December at the Bay and enjoying his new speed boat and fishing. He is among those who fish at Leesville and bring home those BIG Red fish, some of which he was proudly showing off Sunday. We have big ones here, too, Tony!

Speckles have let off a little lately. Colder weather is all that is needed to make them start striking again. Keep that tackle in condition—you will need it!

Proper handling of guns can make hunting a pleasure and most of all save many human lives. Learn to use a gun properly—recognize the object before shooting. Don't take chances.

Can always use some interesting items on hunting and fishing. Just send them in to Kancha Ketchem at the Eagle office. Thanks!!

Joe Glover and Buford L. Green Jr., made a large catch of speckles Saturday at Leesville.

This Year's Crop Harvest

Nineteen hundred and sixty-one might well be dubbed Mississippi's year of agricultural abundance. This year's diversity and productivity marks the great harvest. As for productivity, reports are that this year's crops of corn, cotton, rice, soybeans, hay, sweet potatoes, pecans, and peaches topped last year's production. Milk, egg, and broiler production also top 1960's output. With recent price improvement for some of the main crops, notably cotton and cotton seed, Mississippi's 1961 farm cash income promises to be the highest in several years.

Meeting with the committee Dr. James A. Brimson who is the Medical and Health Director Unit of the State Board of Health.

The target date for beginning classes for volunteer training will begin.

The immediate goal is to train at least one member of every family in Mississippi in the knowledge required for professional care when professional care is not available.

Subject areas in the training course include Radioactive Iodine and Shelter; Sanitation and Veterinary Control; Water and Food Shock; Bleeding and Injury; Emergency Childbirth.

"Much detailed planning is required to implement this vital program," stated Dr. Grimes. "The committee is working full speed, as requested by Governor Barnett."
